COHRED Global Forum Programme Intern (Paid accordingly)

As part of its Global Action programme of activities, COHRED, in partnership with the Philippine Ministry of Health and Philippine Ministry of Science and Technology, is organizing the Global Forum on Research and Innovation for Health (Forum 2015), which will take place in Manila from 24-27 August 2015.

Forum 2015 aims to deliver solutions to the world's unmet health needs through research and innovation. Forum 2015 will provide a platform where low and middle income countries take prime position in defining the global health research agenda, in presenting solutions and in creating effective partnerships for action.

Leading up to this event, COHRED is seeking an intern to assist with the design, development and delivery of the Forum 2015 programme. The Forum Programme Intern will conduct research on the major health-related themes central to the meeting, as well as the various cross cutting issues that will appear throughout the Forum 2015 final programme. The intern will assist COHRED with its outreach to global stakeholders in health; and he or she will provide assistance, when necessary, to logistical and event teams based both in Geneva and Manila.

The intern should have a university degree or an advanced degree in health, the sciences, development, economics or international relations. Prior experience working with international health or development organizations would be an asset. Not least of all, COHRED is seeking an individual with a passion for global health and development and who will share our commitment to ensuring that Forum 2015 has the largest possible positive impact on health, equity and development for all of those involved.

To apply for this position a Swiss work permit is essential.
